Because of the drought in much of the country, the pictures can be from previous years, or ones we saved from elsewhere because we liked them. On the subject of open salts, we can post any china or glass with handpainted flowers. I know there are scads of them out there, and please add them even if you have posted them before in other topics. Janelle Jefferson 07-02-2012 03:53 AM ET (US) IP: 124.170.195.43	Thanks Debi, The Bat Plant originally comes from New Guinea, If you do not get in the right spot it will not flower and die. It likes the corner it is in so cannot move it, but it is getting big. The Camellia's flowering now are beautiful, they are one of my favourite plants. A few finished and others just starting to come out. Not much around at the moment being Winter here.

You should see the smiles on the faces of the "memory support" faces... especially the ones that have "forgotten" how to talk or who they are any more... it's very special... and the residents that have had to give up their own pets... it's great to be able to share Cali with them... As long as Cali is in her basket she just lets anyone approach her... even big dogs... We've been blessed... We even take her up to the local little league ball fields and the kids go wild over her... she just sits in the basket and takes all the lovings they all heap on her... P.J. you were not off topic - The flowers surrounding your precious little furball kept you right in line -
I have mini gardens but very few "flowers" - Maybe I will have time before the month is up to buy a couple of potted flora and set them in my gardens and get pictures - I know it is a bit of cheating - but hey if I hadn't said anything ya wouldn'ta known --
Right now I will share my faience "Garden" with you - I do love the Faience pieces because they are so quietly colorful with flowers and garlands --

Janelle, I love the picture of the staghorn fern and the kookaburra on it. It takes me back to the old campfire song "Kookaburra sat on the old gum tree, merry merry king of the bushes he, laugh kookaburra, laugh kookaburra, gay your life must be." May not remember it perfectly. That was Australia to us as kiddies.

Looking forward to next month - Though I only have a couple of dog and/or cat salts and only three cats - Love to drool over your salts and am sure will be quite jealous of your cuddly loving pets -- My boys are far from cuddle-bunnies -- But for this current topic - I know there are more out there so maybe these will refresh some of your memories of salts you have - lol lol -- This one is one of my Herend salts - Can show it cause I stole the picture Joan took for eBay posting - I buy the salt - I get the picture to - lol lol - m

I finally had time to enjoy all the flower salts and garden pictures...what wonderful items. I have lots of flower salts..will try to post some tomorrow.

Joan...everything is gorgeous....and you know I love that Koi pond.

Mary...love all you posts..some of them look familiar !!! LOL

We always seem to end the month as spectacularly as it begins - Pretty pretty pretties -- Real and not - Well shucks Lyleann - Just about everything I post has to look familiar to someone - I buy "home grown" - With you - Debi and Donna - I have a marvelous collection of the CLEAR stuff - Joan has kept me pretty much in FooFoo's and Jane has expanded my

	salts made of salt collection and other pretties - My shelves would be a bit bare if it weren't for all you Ladies -- Not sure how happy Bob is about it - but I am tickled candy apple red - - As I said previously - my gardens are basically flowerless - But they are my gardens - Maybe I can get a picture of just one of them before the end is once again upon us -- m

Lovely garden pictures, and I can't wait to see your flower salts as I know you have many lovely ones! Did you happen to spot Janelle's beautiful Koi pond? Mary, I'm still waiting to see your frog & gazing ball gardens...please tell Bob we are waiting on him to take some pictures...don't make me call him...lol!! Nancy D., Thank you for sharing the pictures of the blue hydrangea from Cape Cod. They brought back very fond memories of my parents home as they had a whole row of them down one side of their house. I'm missing Susie this month and I know she likes to garden...and Lord knows she has flower salts!! Has anyone heard from her?? Sorry, but I'm a little bit of a worry-wort when it comes to our group of "salty friends"!! Joan

Will apologize for these photos; just took them with my camera phone; so some aren't the best! My gardening is rather limited these days. so have really enjoyed everyones, and Nancy, that Hydrangea was spectacular!!!!!! I planted 2 this year, with my fingers crossed! Janelle, Love the wattle!!! Hope to be more in touch :) :) - I do check in on the message board to see what is happening :) Susie

Thanks Susie - Glad I only spoke truth about ya - lol lol ---- I have got to get me one of those phones - Great pictures -

07-28-2012 09:55 AM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	and then I have got to get me about 20 of your salts -- HMMMMMMMM - I shall ponder the ways and means of doing that -- Also I forgot about the hand painted enamel lace with the floral design - Cheating is okay as long as it makes us drool -- Going after water right now -- Thanks for the posts - Mary

Wow! I am smiling away :)
237 Joan F. 07-28-2012 12:49 PM ET (US) IP: 72.68.84.87	Hi Susie, Lovely salts...well worth the wait!! Your favorite is my favorite!! Thanks for taking time from your hectic schedule to share with us. And tell your boss I said he/she is working you to hard...need more time to play...lol!! Joan
238 Nancy Dietel 07-28-2012 12:53 PM ET (US) IP: 74.105.126.154	Oh, such pretty flowers from Inez and Susie. I was worried as Joan was when we hadn't heard from Susie. But I guess vacations may keep some from posting. I have many more I should add but lazy, hot and hurting these days. Perhaps I will beat the deadline. But I am enjoying all the pretty flowers. 07-29-2012 09:24 AM ET (US) IP: 74.105.126.154	Mary, thanks for your concern, I am more lazy than anything these days. Could the purple flowers be lavender? Whatever, the photo is spectacular and I would love to wander through that garden. The scent must be incredible! Nancy D
245 Nancy Villaverde 07-29-2012 02:20 PM ET (US) IP: 75.80.208.185	I'm sure it's a field of lavender, Nancy. Mary got carried away with the lilac color. Nancy V
246 Debi Raitz★ 07-30-2012 12:53 AM ET (US) IP: 24.192.249.13	Mary: Someday we will all have to study our 6 degrees of separation. Many times I get emails from Jane and others here and then my husband also sends them to me either a day before or a day after from whoever he got them from. I just viewed those two pictures you posted today sent from my husband. Very weird...but our email streams must intersect somewhere close. Debi
247 Mary Kern 07-30-2012 09:55 AM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	WoW Debi - Very strange - Because the individual I got it from has nothing to do with open salts - Collecting anything small and usable and usually only sends political - I was stunned when this one came - lol lol -- And to Nancy D and Nancy V -- Glad you got my back - lol lol -- and my failing brain - Yes - Lavenders - I knew it but when you disconnect your brain while your fingers are typing -- Shoot I could have said Pansies anyone ----- m
