China, pottery, or porcelain double salts. Since there is probably not enough wood or other material doubles for a separate category, let's add those in after the 15th. But china all month long (does not have to be before the 15th).

7 Janelle Jefferson 02-01-2014 01:31 AM ET (US) IP: 124.149.115.71	Spelling mistake, it's not deputies but depuis. Not that I know what depuis means anyway.

I think I got it from Mary, maybe she knows the meaning. I took it to mean "Mother and perhaps a city?" The "o" has a line through it.
12 Mary Kern 02-01-2014 12:02 PM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	Hi Nancy - I have her match in green - It is the Artist's name if I remember correctly - There are many versions of her and also a single boy and girl - Many color combos on both children and the lady double - They are such fun - I will have to see if my little green girl has a picture handy - Many different name signatures also - or are they cities - no if cities would be on the front of the piece with great pride - Seems all signatures are on the bases - so must be as I first

	remembered - Artists/painters --  Janelle - Love your little flower handled one --  Short sit period right now - been playing with my picture folders this morning and sat too long -- Up and at 'em now trying to stretch those lazy ole back muscles -- Not too strenuously though -- Trust me on that one - lol lol - I think most of my pictures are going to be my Faience babies - But I do have a few other porcelain/china ones --  Next month when we do metals and misc I will have more input - This month - mostly drooling and saline sweats --

98 Nancy Dletel ★ 02-07-2014 09:35 AM ET (US) IP: 74.105.137.82	 #97 looks. Though it is cracked. It is not, it has some black veining. This double is very tiny.
99 Nancy Dletel ★ 02-07-2014 09:39 AM ET (US) IP: 74.105.137.82	 Here is a basket double, marked Limoges, France. I doubt the marks, the quality is not there. The reason I'm finding salts is because many are in the basement or the 2nd floor rooms. I have not been able to climb stairs in many months. Don has found the last 3. Just wanted to assure everyone that I am not quite "dotty" yet!

102 Mary Kern 02-08-2014 03:12 PM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	Hey There Mama Debi - If we have signed in on any of the past topics - If someone adds to one of them - do we still get an e-mail from that topic and poster -- If so then forgotten or newly acquired ones could easily be posted with their salt mates right? I think it works that way - but cannot remember - You know just sitting around with nothing to do but think of dumb questions for you to answer --

Debi Raitz★ 02-08-2014 03:37 PM ET (US) IP: 69.14.220.22	It's not a dumb question. If you sign up with the GET EMAIL button, then yes, you will get an email under that title. I got an email for Double the Fun when Jane posted her vaseline version of Nancy V's last post here. If there are no more posts then you won't get any more email for that topic. Then once I convert the old topics to PDF, the topics are completely deleted and there will never be any more email under those titles. So it's best to GET EMAIL and be notified of posts of past topics as well as the current one. As of now, anyone could still post to old topics using the Past Topics link above back to May 2013. Nancy V: You can add your glass piece under the Last Month link above and then it would be in the correct category.

	Sue - I went off subject/topic - which everyone knows I never ever do at all even once - So you can show your stackers - I do not think I gave a size for the doubles - They are 3 5/8" long - 2 1/8 across and to the top of the lids 1 1/4" - so they are very compact - The one I showed has a mermaid design - I will see if I have a close up of it - The pictures make this one look better than it actually is Sue - The flat topped ones are always smoother and in better shape than the center handled ones - Perhaps they are newer versions -

206 Nancy Dletel★ 02-24-2014 06:34 PM ET (US) IP: 74.105.137.82	Sue, I never saw anything like the pewter stacker either! I can't believe after all these years I missed an entire (new for me) category. How can that possibly be?
207 Mary Kern★ 02-24-2014 06:37 PM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	Oh Nancy - Tis Simple - SUE is a pewter hoarder ----- Thank goodness I do not have a stacker or I would have to claim Hoarderness myself - (Nice save - if I do say so myself)
208 Sue Sawyer 02-24-2014 08:53 PM ET (US) IP: 173.88.45.26	A hoarder, huh? And this from the queen of hoarding! I actually was a salt spoon hoarder before our move...somehow lost all my beautiful salt spoons in the move. I'm still sick about it. Had some lovelies, and my brother-in-law made me a spoon rack with tiny little holes that just fit in my hutch with my salts. Hope they are in that great spoon rack in the sky...

210 Debi Raitz★ 02-24-2014 11:18 PM ET (US) IP: 69.14.220.22	Sue: They are so light, are you sure they aren't still in a box you think is too light to have anything inside? I did that once with a blown glass ornament, the really thin kind of glass. I hope you come across them some time.
211 Sue Sawyer 02-25-2014 07:18 AM ET (US) IP: 173.88.45.26	Thanks, Debi. I think I've looked every possible place, but I haven't given up hope yet. I just hope that box that is too light didn't get thrown out.
212 Mary Kern★ 02-25-2014 01:04 PM ET (US) IP: 72.220.213.56	Oh Sue - I have done the same thing - When we moved from the apartment to our house - I only had a few spoons at the time and I wrapped them in a paper towel and put them in a very safe place that I promptly forgot what it was and where it was - Every time I would think about them my stomach would go into knots - I kept trying to say it was over and let it go but far easier said than done -It took me three or four years to find them - Had put them in a vanity box that was my grandmother's - I finally decided one day to use that box on my bathroom counter - There was this wad of paper toweling inside -- Keep the faith .... me
