CLASSIC CONTEMPORARY

CLASSIC CONTEMPORARY

The origins of Mosser Glass go back more than half a century to the time when Orie Mosser was the plant manager of the Cambridge Glass Company – a small town glassware manufacturer in the heart of the Midwest. His son, Tom, began working there as a teenager, learning the trade from bottom to top. When Cambridge Glass closed in 1954, Tom decided to continue in the glass business, starting his own company in his hometown.

From day one, Tom Mosser was committed to manufacturing quality glassware, and his dedication was rewarded with continuing success. In 1971, he established Mosser Glass with a product line that blends new designs with timeless classics acquired from Viking, L.G. Wright and of course, Cambridge Glass. Today, Mosser Glass employs more than 30 people in an efficient manufacturing process configured to provide the highest quality glassware for our customers. The fine family tradition continues with family members bringing new ideas to the company while keeping with the traditions our customers cherish. And in turn, our customers are doing just that – decorating with Mosser Glass in a whole new way.

They are using our classic Mosser pieces in unique ways by working them into their contemporary-styled spaces.

Our customers have perfected what is called “Classic Contemporary” – a style that blends old world traditional with new world modern. It incorporates a balance between the ornate vintage trends of the past and the basic minimalism of today to create a newly inspired décor.

The classic contemporary style focuses on bringing out the simplicity and sophistication of Mosser Glass’ design in creative fashions to allow its art to shine through. For example, by using pieces such as Mosser’s jadeite cake plates as donut displays for weddings, brides are able to blend the popular dessert craze with the everlasting style and trendy color of the glassware. Bringing together the past and the present, Mosser Glass creates timeless pieces of home décor that can evolve with the trends and can be passed down for generations to come.

The Mosser family is proud of the legacy that Orie and Tom began in Cambridge, Ohio. As you look through the following pages, you will see we continue that legacy, blending beauty and fine craftsmanship in every piece of glassware we produce. We hope it brings you as much pleasure as it brings us.

Classic Contemporary – Style with a Timeless History

Originally known as transitional style, classic contemporary is a current home décor style that exists midway between old world traditional and the modern world of chrome and glass contemporary. It incorporates a balance between vintage ornamentation and modern minimalism as well as a blend of both masculine and feminine features. And while still focusing on practicality, classic contemporary also includes subtle elements of comfort, warmth and texture in its design to offer an inviting new look with a nostalgic sentiment. It puts a new take on an old classic.

Jadeite – Putting a Contemporary Twist on a Classic Color

The stylishly stunning color, Jadeite has made a resurgence in the past few years due to its vintage appeal yet uniquely modern touch to any décor. Our customers love to use their jadeite Mosser pieces not only as functional kitchenware – like our monogrammed salt and pepper shakers – but also as creative, decorative displays. Whether our cake plates and pitchers are on open shelving in the kitchen, our serving platters are mounted on the wall in dining rooms, or our classic drawer pulls are replacing dated hardware all throughout the home, our customers are continuing to surprise us on how they show off their jadeite Mosser Glass in retro yet contemporary ways.
